CESSNA CARAVAN BUSHING KITS ELEVATOR AND RUDDER

Cessna has issued several non-mandatory service bulletins and service kits for the rudder and elevator hinge bearings on the Caravan due to a corrosion issue with the needle bearing. The service kits require modification to the hinge structure, not just the bearing itself. The new bearing is a different size than the "original" design, so the mounting hardware is different as well. Because of these structural changes any aircraft that has had the service kits installed cannot use hardware from a non-service kit aircraft. Includes bearings and all attaching hardware.

Flap Tracing Edge Stiffener 116.25" P/N 05-07237 $166.85

CESSNA CABLE & CHAIN KITS

Complete flight control and trim chain kits for each of the 150 different cable groups required to service all single engine aircraft from the model 120 through model 185 airplanes. It is a tedious and time consuming job to research the part manuals for all of the cables required for a complete aircraft. We carry stock on all of the cables in either Galvanized-Carbon Steel or Stainless Steel. All components are fully traceable, high quality, and proof tested.
